A new kind of Sears store opened in Cal City recently. Located in the new California City Business Park at 8209 California City Boulevard, the new store is part of a program Sears calls its “Quantum Leap” in retailing.

Danny Jackson, who with his wife Toni, have operated the Sears store in Tehachapi for 11 years, said the store will be a satellite of the Tehachapi store. It will be open daily from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m., and from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Sundays.

“These new stores are tailored for areas like California City that need a store of this size,” Jackson said. California City, which could not accommodate a full-size Sears store, now enjoys a 4,000 sq. ft. Sears store with a 2,740 sq. ft. showroom

The store is already stocked with many of the items that will be available to local customers, including appliances, electronics, televisions, vacuums, exercise equipment, lawn mowers, and of course, Sears’ specialty — tools.
